the substantial recuperation in the banking surplus disclosed by the weekly bank statement on Saturday after the stock market had closed. The fact that a scaling down of the loan account was responsible for the reduction of the reserve requirement did not detract from the satisfaction felt at the restoration of a broader margin in the surplus. Neither did the fact that loans had been shifted to the trust companies and to foreign lenders make this showing rather than an actual liquidation of loans. The speculative element apparently concluded that this process could be easily extended to save from trouble.

The long-time favorites in the speculation resumed their prominent position in the market at the outset and rose rapidly on large transactions. Some check to the advance and a decided shrinkage in the activity came when it became known that some of the banks were calling loans, and that readjustment of accommodations was made necessary. No urgent liquidation of stocks was caused by this, but renewed attention was called to the money position. Interior money markets reported a rising tendency in interest and an increased pressure of demana.

On the foreign side the imperiat the foreign side the imperial

On the foreign side the imperial Bank of Germany after hesitating over the week-end advanced its official discount rate from $1.2$ to 4 per cent., as a measure of protection against the heavy drain looked for in connection with the coming October settlements. The private discount rate rose both in Arthe private discount rate rose both in Monder and Paris, and while the competition for the weekly arrival of gold in the London market was withdrawn, At a reduction of a penny an ounce in the prices. Our own foreign exchange market was thus affected, and was appreciably firmer with lessened advanced to American borrowers of funds of the process of tage to American borrowers of funds

The speculation was incited by various factors in which rumors played a considerable part. Often repeated rumors that an announcement was imminent that would materially benefit minent that would materially benefit Reading stockholders was industrious-ly used. United States Steel rose briskly to a new record level, helped by the continued highly favorable condition reported from all branches timations that a price reduction was at hand, although by what agency was not clearly specified. The price of copper warrants in London had a small advance, and Rio Tintos were strong in the market.

harmony in the control of those properties was dwelt upon. The sympathetic influence of these movements on the general list was considerable, but was not without exception.

A notable case in point was St. Paul, which started out of the current opening upward price movement and later became depressed. The stock was affected partly by profit taking after last week's material advance, but there were speculative buyers also who were disappointed that no action was taken at the annual meeting on Saturday, which would supply "rights" to stockholders, as had been rumored would be done. Railroad traffic officials showed some reservations as to increases in the freight movement, which were most perceptible in the corn and cotton regions. Impaired prospects for those crops have had some effect in activity of the demand for merchancie. The irregular tone of the market became very active and its response were unchanged on call.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO, September 20.—Record-breaking receipts of wheat at Minneapolis and Duluth had a weakening refect on the wheat market here to-day, but the heavy movement in the Northwest was affect in a large degree by a material failing off in receipts in the Southwest. The markot closed fairly steady with prices ic. lower to iso higher. Corn and oats were weak, but provisions were steady.

The September delivery showed considerable firmness at times and increased its premium oevr December by 16 2c. Total receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth aggregated 2,85 cars, which was approximately three and one-half carloads more than had ever been received in any previous day at these two points. The range on December for the day was between 375c. and 855 26 25%c. September sold between $1.03%.

Increased offerings of corn from the country and a decrease in shipping demand caused a weakness in the corn market, sentiment in the pit being bearish all day. Cash prices were 46 2c. lower. At the close prices were 16 26 2c. lower. At the close prices were 16 2c. lower. Provisions were rather weak early in the day owing to realizing sales, but became firmer during the last half of the session on buying by influential houses. Prices at the close were unchanged to 12%c, higher.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

NEW YORK, September 26.—The sharp advance in raw cotton to-day served to puzzle the cotton goods manufacturers still further as to the future. Prices cannot be quoted for distant delivery owing to the uncertainty regarding the price milis will have to pay for their raw material. Buyers are disposed to place good orders for late delivery, but only on to-day's basis of value. These proposals are being declined and a curtallment of production throughout New England is under consideration in order to bring about a more normal state of affairs. DRY GOODS MARKET.
